

THE DISAPPOINTMENT

(Drama)

While confronting a love, you decide to show your emotion and tell him/her what you really been holding in your heart...

No, you listen!

You turned out to be exactly who I thought you were.

I never pretended to be somebody else—

it's been me all along.

And it was me who was hurt in front of everyone.

Look I didn't come here to yell at you, okay?

I know how it feels to be afraid to show who you are.

I was... but not anymore.

And the thing is, I don't care what people think about me,

because I believe in myself.

I know that things are going to be okay.

Even though I have no family, no job, and no money for college,

It's you that I feel sorry for.

(Beat)

I know the (Guy/girl) that sent those beautiful letters is somewhere inside of you, but, I can't wait for (him/her)...

Waiting for you is like waiting for rain in this miserable drought:

useless and disappointing.
